GlyMed Plus Reveals Highly Anticipated Cell Science DNA Reset Face & Neck Cream with Epidermal Growth Factors

GlyMed Plus—April 1st, 2011, industry leader in professional skin care, today revealed their highly anticipated Cell Science DNA Reset Face & Neck Cream – an exclusive product rooted in cellular science to combat the effects of aging skin brought on by DNA damage.

This exceedingly advanced formula contains a 'telomerase activation' extract, proven to slow or reverse telomere shortening which causes DNA damage and results in wrinkles and thinning, sagging skin. Christine Heathman, Founder and CEO of GlyMed Plus recently explained the hype surrounding this proprietary formula. "GlyMed Plus DNA Reset Face & Neck Cream is truly matchless in its ingredient technology; combining the science of telomerase activation with epidermal growth factors, three stem cell plant extracts, a micro-lifting resveratrol extract and an award winning ingredient that protects cells against UV radiation and future damage."

Cell Science DNA Reset Face & Neck Cream with Epidermal Growth Factors empowers skin cells to act younger by activating telomerase to extend the health and life of cells, increase cell turnover to promote collagen production and protect skin cells from UV radiation and future damage. Similar to infant's skin, results include visibly smoother, plumper, taut and lifted skin on the face and neck.

Adjoining the excitement of their new product, GlyMed Plus is elated to announce their partnership with The Center for Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery in Ann Arbor, MI who will use the Cell Science DNA Reset Face & Neck Cream exclusively with the Ulthera® Aesthetic UltraSound System. The Ulthera® System, with its patented DeepSEE™ technology is a face and neck treatment that creates a brand new category in aesthetics—non-invasive tissue lifting. This revolutionary device combines ultrasound imaging with ultrasound therapy to counter the affects of aging on the skin. The Center for Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery will utilize DNA Reset Face & Neck Cream as a pre and post care treatment to enhance and extend the lifting and tightening results of the Ulthera procedure.

For over 20 years, GlyMed Plus® has been a renowned leader in the skin care industry, offering a complete range of Professional Only products, combining technologically advanced ingredients with certified organic botanicals to produce unparalleled results. Ulthera® is an emerging ultrasound-based medical technology company that is raising the bar for aesthetic medical procedures. While the demand and promise for noninvasive energy-based procedures continue to grow, the ability to consistently deliver safe, significant, and satisfying results has been elusive. Ulthera is a company dedicated to achieving these types of results through elective medical procedures for rejuvenation of the skin and its underlying tissue.
